Regional Policy Discussion

Vice Mayor Rex Richardson's history in Long Beach is grounded in advocating for its most vulnerable residents and empowering communities to have a seat at the table and an opportunity to thrive. He works to change the city hall culture to be smarter, more inclusive, and more responsive to the needs of neighborhoods, businesses, and families.

In the last year, Rex was sworn in as President of the Southern California Association of Governments (SCAG), the largest metropolitan planning organization in the country, representing six counties, 191 cities, and more than 18 million residents. In December, he was elected to the South Coast Air Quality Management District board with 57% of the vote from leaders across the agency's Western Regional Cities, including Long Beach, Compton, Cerritos, Santa Monica, and Torrance. His election is critical for the San Pedro Bay Ports as the district moves to update its region-wide plan for regulating everything from trains, warehouses, and airplanes in 2022.

Join the HAIC for a virtual discussion with Vice Mayor Richardson as we explore regional public policy issues.
